

Procedure/Policies for 2020 RPT Convention Exhibitors

Space for exhibition and advertisement will be primarily by invitation and will be granted at the sole discretion of the RPT. The preferred method of communication will be by electronic means (email) except for those instances where paper copies are preferable or mandatory. Securing exhibit or advertising space is accomplished by completing the RPT registration form and forwarding it along with payment, a signed copy of the Exhibitor Agreement, and other pertinent documents requested in the invitation.

Should an individual, group or entity who did not receive an invitation desire one, they may contact the Exhibit Coordinator or the RPT state headquarters to make a request that one be sent.

Offensive, sexually oriented, racially biased, or lewd material is not permitted. In addition, no protesting or demonstrating will be allowed in the exhibit area.

Individuals, groups or entities that intend to distribute literature or other information that is contrary to RPT principles may be denied space at the discretion of the RPT. In the event that your application is found to be in conflict with the principles of the Republican Party of Texas, you will be notified and a refund will be issued to you.

Exhibitors are required to follow rules of the Convention Center and the exhibit hall.

All submissions will be reviewed and recommended by the RPT staff to the RPT Officials Committee. Denials of applications prior to the last SREC meeting before the week of convention may be appealed to the SREC for review and possible action upon request of the vendor. The Officials Committee will have the final authority to deny or accept requests submitted after the last SREC meeting before the week of convention for exhibit space, advertisement space, and distribution of literature until the Convention adopts its rules. Acceptance or denial will be based on availability, completion of packet, adherence to policy, RPT By-laws, RPT Rules and RPT Platform principles.
